

AMERICANS SLUG THROUGH ALBAN HILLS

Strong American Plane Formations Fly To Secret Air Bases in Russia

Marion Aerial
Gunner Missing

Robert Willard E. Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moss, of Marion, Ohio, who was reported missing after the completion of his military training at the Marion Army Airfield, was reported missing after the completion of his military training at the Marion Army Airfield, was reported missing after the completion of his military training at the Marion Army Airfield.

NAZI COASTAL DEFENSE HIT

West Wall Target of Two
Raids by Heavy U. S.
Bombers Today.

LONDON, June 5—U. S. heavy bombers struck twice at Nazi coastal fortifications in the Pas-de-Calais and Boulogne areas of France today, carrying on the aerial assault of Europe's most intensified pressure campaign against the German rail facilities.

MAJOR H. T. HILL MISSING IN ACTION

Marion Woman's Husband Absent After Austrian Raid.

Major H. T. Hill, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barger of Bellefontaine avenue, has been reported missing in action over Austria since May 10. Official word was received by Mrs. Hill at Austin, Tex., on Thursday and she telephoned it to Mr. and Mrs. Barger yesterday.

New Cartoon To Start Monday

Frank Gorman and his staff are working on a new cartoon strip for the Marion Star, which will start on Monday. The cartoon will be a daily feature and will be drawn by Gorman.

OCCUPY FIELDS AFTER RAIDING BALKAN AREA

Landing Hailed as New Step in American, British and Russian Cooperation.

By EDDY GILMORE

EASTERN COMMAND, U. S. STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, SOMEWHERE IN RUSSIA, June 3—Strong formations of American Flying Fortresses and Mustang fighter escorts have landed at secretly-prepared American bases in Russia after bombing Romanian targets, accomplishing west-east bombing on Hitler's fortress for the first time and establishing joint offensive operations with the Red air force.

The historic operation, completed yesterday, was disclosed to be the fruition of a long-range American-Russian-British air plan through which the three powers, in intimate collaboration, brought the most far-flung portions of the Nazi domain under precision bombing.

The dramatic arrival of American bombers and fighters on Russian soil, presumably from Italy, evoked this first communiqué from ECUSA (Eastern Command, U. S. Strategic Air Force).

MAJOR H. T. HILL MISSING IN ACTION

Marion Woman's Husband Absent After Austrian Raid.

Major H. T. Hill, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barger of Bellefontaine avenue, has been reported missing in action over Austria since May 10. Official word was received by Mrs. Hill at Austin, Tex., on Thursday and she telephoned it to Mr. and Mrs. Barger yesterday.

MAJOR H. T. HILL MISSING IN ACTION

Marion Woman's Husband Absent After Austrian Raid.

Major H. T. Hill, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barger of Bellefontaine avenue, has been reported missing in action over Austria since May 10. Official word was received by Mrs. Hill at Austin, Tex., on Thursday and she telephoned it to Mr. and Mrs. Barger yesterday.

INVASION WEATHER

LONDON, June 3—After a sunny dawn banks of clouds moved across the Dover strait today from the English to the French coasts as a light northerly breeze rippled the smooth sea.

War Summary

ROME—Allies pledge every precaution to safeguard Rome.

BOMBINGS—Nazis' west wall cut today by U. S. heavy bombers and fighters.

PACIFIC—Allies score gains against Japs in Burma and India.

AIR BASES—Landing of strong U. S. air formations on secret Russian fields hailed as new step in U. S. British and Russian cooperation in war.

ITALY—Americans capture Monte Castellaccio, 14 miles below Rome and slug war into Alban hills.

On Biak Yanks Open Up New Airfields.

Attack To Drive Foe from Airfields.

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, June 3—Supporters of Gov. Bricker of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination today hailed as a "sweeping victory" the refusal of the Indiana state G.O.P. convention to instruct Hoosier delegates to the national convention to vote for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

J. Frank McDermond, Attica (Ind.) publisher and president of the Bricker-for-President club in Indiana, who described the action yesterday as a Bricker victory, said:

"For weeks Dewey adherents have been claiming the delegates of the Indiana delegation would be instructed for Dewey. When the test came, however, it was evident the delegates were not in the frame of mind to be 'wrapped up and delivered' to a man who has not even admitted publicly that he is a candidate."

"I feel confident that most of the Indiana delegates will be for Governor Bricker, the only candidate who has had the fortitude and courage to tell the American people where he stands on every issue."

McDermond described the Indiana action as "a forerunner of a sweep for Bricker throughout the nation."

Don E. Ebright, Ohio State treasurer, who attended the Indiana convention as a representative of Bricker, said, "the action of the delegates in favor of an uninstructed delegation is in line with the wishes of Gov. Bricker for a free and deliberative convention at Chicago."

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 3—Lester J. Bradshaw, Wisconsin state chairman of the Bricker for president committee, reported today that Grant Ritter of Beloit, Wis., delegate to the Republican national convention pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, would vote for Bricker.

(Turn to BRICKER, Page 7)

By The Associated Press

ST. MARY GRADUATES TO GET DIPLOMAS

in Commencement Exercises Sunday

Rev. Father Francis B. Lay, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic church, will deliver the commencement address when 26 seniors of St. Mary Parochial school are graduated in exercises to be held at 4 p. m. Sunday in the church.

Father Lay's subject will be "The Necessity of Religion in Education."

Miss Rosaline Manzo will preside at the organ. The musical portion of the service will include: "Praise Ye the Father," by Elgar; "Tantum Ergo," by Father Verduessen, S. J.; and "Praise Be to Thee," by Sister Mary Rafael, B. V. M.

Solemn benediction will close the service. Father William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary church, will be celebrant. Father Benedict Ruback, O. M. C. of Our Lady of Carey seminary will be deacon and Father Lay will be sub-deacon.

St. Mary commencement exercises will be broadcast over Station WMRN with Robert Axe as narrator.

Sophomores and seniors of St. Mary school will attend mass at 7:30 Sunday morning and will then go to Hotel Harding where seniors will be breakfast guests of the sophomores.

Robert Wintersteller will be toastmaster. Father Spickerman, Orlando Tarsantelli, Kent Daum, Virginia Bianchi, Nettie Ann Steinmetz and Daniel McGinnis will speak.

ALLIES ADVANCE AGAINST JAPS IN BURMA, INDIA

On Biak Yanks Open Up New Airfields.

Attack To Drive Foe from Airfields.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED FORCES in the Asiatic theater of war clashed hard at Japanese forces registering gains in Burma and India while American troops on Biak island in the southwest Pacific were poised for new thrusts at the enemy.

Mop-up squads of cliff-scaling Yanks ferreted Japanese snipers from limestone caves and hunted down machinegun nests on wooded ridges as the week-old invasion of Biak island, stalemated since Monday, moved back into high gear today.

A big push by reinforced Sixth army units toward three airfields—potential bases for bombing the Philippines—was pointed along a coastal road, hitherto a death trap because of murderous fire poured down from the ridges.

Invaded Saturday

Biak, main island in the Sulu archipelago, 600 miles southeast of the Philippines, was invaded in Dutch New Guinea's Geelvink bay last Saturday. The Japanese pulled out of Bosnek village on the southeast coast, allowed the Yanks to move west along a shore road to within half a mile of Mokmer, then cut loose with withering blasts which forced the invaders back a mile and a half.

While reinforcements were landed, Yank units fought their way to ridges and a spokesman said today "we now are mopping up."

In coordination, Liberators and Mitchells skimmed the ridges to spill 80 tons of explosives on Japanese there and at Mokmer. Headquarters reported small groups of Japanese planes were attacking the Bosnek beachhead at night, losing one in the latest effort to anti-aircraft gunners, but the enemy air force refrained from showing up in daylight.

Americans and Chinese attacking from three sides are making gains within and outside the north Burma Japanese base of Myitkyna. Driving from the north-west one column gained nearly a mile in face of stiff opposition while in the southern part of the town itself, allied troops inched forward 400 yards.

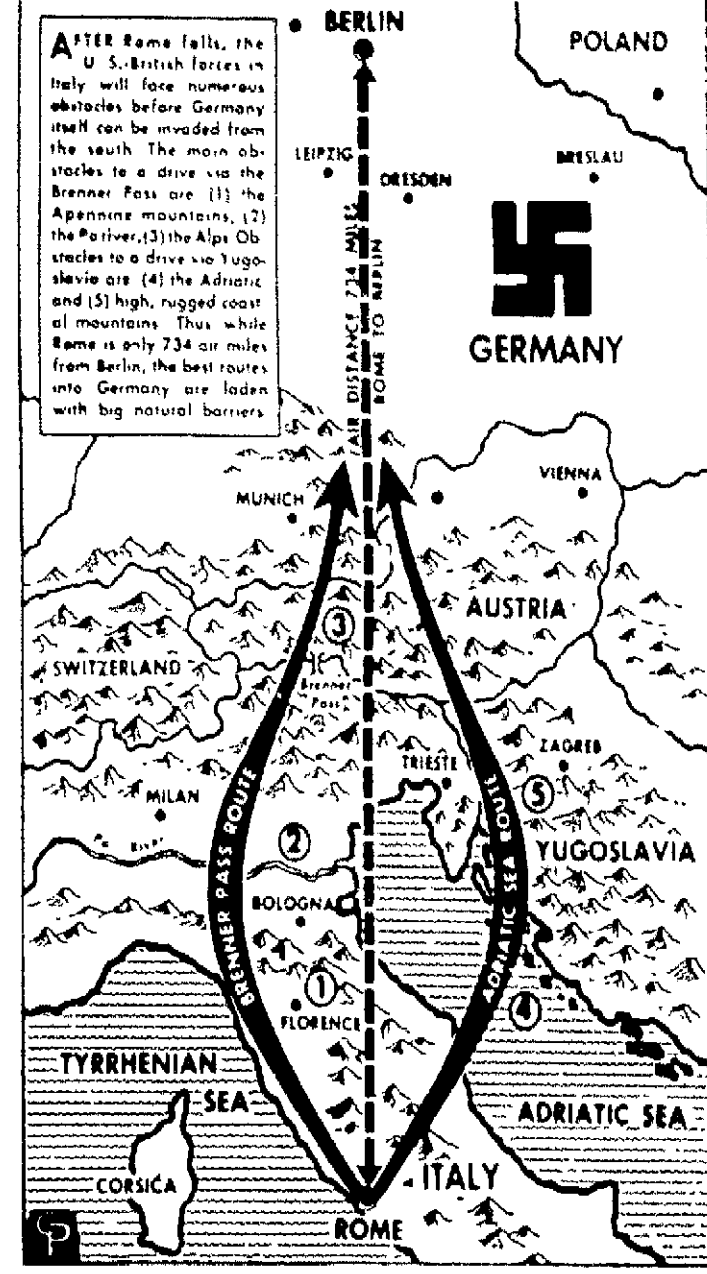

700 Japs Killed

The Allied communiqué said British Chindit troops killed 700 Japanese before they withdrew from a road block between Hogaung and Myitkyna. This brought the claimed total for the Chindits to at least 3,700 Japanese killed thus far in the Burma campaign.

In a drive to make contact with the Allies in the Myitkyna sector, the Chinese high command announced 20,000 American trained Chinese troops were advancing through rain, mud and mist.

Reinforced American-Chinese columns fighting their way into

BIG OBSTACLES ABOVE ROME

1,900 ATTEND GRADUATION

Harding Seniors Receive Diplomas, Hear Talk by Dr. Joseph Gray.

By JOHN BRYANS

An audience of approximately 1,900 attended Harding High school's third wartime commencement last night at the pavilion in Garfield park.

The guest speaker, Dr. Joseph M. Gray, pastor of Bexley, O., Methodist church, was introduced by E. E. Holt, superintendent of city schools.

Dr. Gray's opening sentences were all but drowned by rain which pounded the roof of the pavilion, but he adapted his speech to the situation and continued with his remarks as the storm quieted.

Dr. Gray advised the graduates that, though we make no progress by looking backward all the time, we can not make intelligent progress without looking at the past and learning from events that have passed before.

He then proceeded to start on a "road of remembrance," recalling ideals and characters which are America's heritage.

Cites Mayflower Compact

He cited the spirit of the Mayflower compact, signed in 1620, as one of the oldest documents setting forth the ideal of the democratic system as it was worked out in America.

"Those men could not possibly visualize what Twentieth century America would be like in social order and personal freedom," Dr. Gray stated.

The second heritage is a heritage of great men whose characters have lived in American history and whose wisdom in government has spread their names throughout the world.

Citing a point which has often been misunderstood, Dr. Gray said that America has never been isolated from the emergencies and tragedies of world affairs and never can be.

Praises America

"History has made Americans the stewards of a definite social character," he explained. America is a place where humanitarian ideals can be realized in facing present day conditions.

In fact that we are the stewards of the best in social character has made us inescapably responsible," he said, though social and moral discipline are dead in many parts of the world, they still live in America, he continued.

In the social and political confusion of today the defense of moral discipline will be even greater than the present material conflict, he said, and asked the graduates to take their part in defending these ideals.

Dr. Gray deplored the selfish motives which have caused many disturbances in the home front today. The greatest enemy of the United States today is the selfishness of those who refuse to cooperate for

(Turn to GRADUATION, Page 8)

Allies Put Fate of Rome Squarely Up To Nazi Defense

Monte Castellaccio, Action Depends on 14 Miles Below
Rome Taken. Whether Nazis
Take Stand.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, June 3—The Allied command in Italy pledged every precaution to safeguard Rome in a statement today following Pope Pius XII's plea that the city be spared, but declared its fate lay in the hands of the Germans—that they would be ousted by force if they defended the capital.

Other allied troops pushed down the highway from Valmontone, on a line of a potential trap for Nazi reinforcements falling back under steady advances by the allied armies to the southeast.

The power drive that tracked the Germans' Verderi-Valmontone line swept on to Monte Castellaccio, 14 miles north of Valmontone, and only 14 miles southeast of Rome.

Headquarters cautioned that although Verderi and Valmontone, bastions of the Rome line, have been captured, "the enemy's defense position in this sector has not yet been broken," that the German defenses are "in considerable depth and first resistance is being encountered."

(The German high command reported bitter fighting in the Alban hills Friday, and said attacks at and west of Lariano, just west of Velletri, were repelled.)

Strike Three Ways

United States units which took Valmontone struck out in three directions—northward along the Via Cassilina toward Rome, 20 miles away; southeast along the same road to link up with the French who are driving the Germans out of their footholds on the south side of the Sacco river, and due north along an important secondary road toward a vital highway junction at Cave, three miles from Valmontone.

The French closed in quickly from the south on Colle Ferri, four and a half miles southeast of Valmontone and within pistol shot of both highway six and the river.

Earlier to the southeast other French troops closed the retreat route from the area south of the Sacco river by shelling across a secondary road at Sngugola, 11 miles from Valmontone and five and a half miles west of Ferentino, which the Eighth army already had taken.

Gen. Alphonse Juin's French troops also were driving northward from the village of Montelanciano, 11 miles southwest of Valmontone. Montelanciano was taken the night of June 1.

Thus iron claws were closing in on whatever German units were attempting to fight a rearguard action in the 13-mile sector between Colle Ferri and Ferentino, looping south of the Sacco river.

From this bag the Nazis had four untried country roads extending northward, along which they could attempt to escape, but close pursuit from three sides was certain to cost them heavy casualties as well as the loss of all but their most highly mobile vehicles.

American exploiting their

(Turn to ITALY, Page 13)

Firemen Go To Aid
of Locked-in Child

Firemen released the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Blake of 345 1/2 Windsor street last night after she had accidentally locked herself in a sleeping porch. The firemen pried the screen open and unlocked the door leading in the apartment. The call was answered at 9:25 p. m. in the fire department line car.

Firemen Answer 3rd
Robin Rescue Call

Firemen rescued another robin at 7:40 a. m. today after it had hung all night suspended upside down with one foot caught in a string. The call, to the rear of 464 Davis street, was made in the line car. This was the third call Marion firemen have answered within the last few weeks to extricate robins from similar traps.

82 GAS VICTIMS ILL

NEW YORK, June 3—Eighty-two victims of escaping chlorine gas which swept a busy section of Brooklyn Thursday were reported still undergoing treatment in hospitals today. Approximately 1,000 persons were affected by the gas, and 403 were hospitalized but there were no fatalities.

WALLACE SPEAKS RUSSIAN

LONDON, June 3—Speaking in Russian to a native audience in the Siberian town of Irkutsk, Vice President Wallace said "it is becoming quite clear that only the full collaboration between our two countries and their allies can insure to the world a stable peace and true development."

11 IN DRAFT NET

BALTIMORE, June 3—The federal bureau of investigation arrested 14 men and one woman today, accusing them of evading the draft or assisting inductees to obtain deferments.

50 Needed To Fill
Blood Donor Quota

An SOS for 50 volunteers, 15 of whom are needed to fill Monday's quota, is being sent out today by the Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross, in anticipation of the three-day visit of the Columbus Blood Donor unit here next week.

There have been a number of 11th-hour cancellations, due to runs and other circumstances, the office reported today, and volunteers are urgently needed to fill the vacancies if the city's quota of 200 for each day is reached. Volunteers are asked to call the Red Cross office 2419.

The work of placing the equipment in the blood donor center, which will be located in the basement of Epworth Methodist church, was started yesterday by Sheldon Dodd, equipment chairman, and everything will be in readiness for starting the work of collecting blood for wounded men in the armed services, Monday at 12:30 p. m. F. P. McKinney, chairman of the blood donor unit said today.

WEATHER REPORT

OHIO FORECAST

Continued warm and humid with thundershowers tonight and Sunday.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE

Noon Today 76
(For period between 5 a. m. yesterday and 5 a. m. today.)

Maximum 86
Minimum 63
Rainfall .62 of an inch

One Year Ago Today
Maximum 87
Minimum 71

NEW PASTOR COMING TO WESLEY SUNDAY

at Two Services

Rev. H. M. McAdow, pastor of Wesley Methodist church here, succeeding Rev. D. N. McAdow, who retired recently, will preach in services at the church here now at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Coming here from Zion church, Toledo, Rev. McAdow served formerly in the Maryland conference. He and Mrs. McAdow and a daughter will move here to occupy the parsonage at 100 Blaine avenue. The McAdows have two sons in service.

Rev. and Mrs. Kelly have a 160-acre farm southeast of Lake Waplesfield and will have a home here. Pastor here from 1836 to 1851. Rev. Kelly was appointed here in 1923, coming from the church at Blaine.

Fite Baptist Pastor Candidate To Preach

Rev. C. B. Jones of Columbia is a candidate for the pastorate of the Five Memorial Baptist church. His first preaching in the church at Darlington and Darus streets tomorrow morning and evening. His subject at 10:30 a. m. will be "Feather the Home of the Soul," and at 7:30 p. m. "Lost Joy."

Delegation Going to Upper Sandusky

Delegations from Marion Episcopal and Reformed churches will attend the spring rally of youth groups of the southern region, Northwest Ohio synod, the denomination, tomorrow afternoon at Trinity church, Upper Sandusky. Those who will attend from each church are to assemble for the trip at 2 p. m.

Mt. Gilead Pastor To Speak Here Tomorrow

Rev. Charles Matti of Mt. Gilead will speak when the Marion Business association meets tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in First Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Matti, pastor of the Gilead Friends church, is a returned missionary coming to this country on the return liner Grapsholm.

W. E. BUDGETT, Pastor

A black and white portrait of a man, identified as W. E. Budgett, Pastor. He is shown from the chest up, wearing a dark suit and a light-colored shirt. The portrait is framed by a decorative border.

SUN. 8 P. M.
"THE APOSTLES' CREED"
Seventh in Series
"The Judgement of Nations"
SUN. 11 A. M.
"The Desire of Angels"
SAT. 8 P. M.
"The Infolding Fire"
MARION GOSPEL CENTER
228 E. Center St.
Undenominational
"We Pray For The Sick"

not complete without a of fresh home made PIE
FRIED CHICKEN
STEAK • CHOPS
DINNERS $1.25
DESSERTS AND DINNERS
10 to 7:00. Open All Day Sundays.

NOR HOUSE

St. Phone 2995.

FOLKS,

by us sets the price of selection of the necessary

ours is the same personal
e. regardless of the amount.

er greater, often less than es sometimes regarded as advise is available to all ny obligation.

ON Funeral Home
The Means Of All • PHONE 2315

group

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

MISSING OHIOANS IN WAR DEPT. LIST

Divorce Actions

Barbara L. Morgan vs. Harry Morgan, divorce, filed in 1934, is now ready for trial. The plaintiff, Mrs. Morgan, is represented by George L. H. Brown, and the defendant, Mr. Morgan, is represented by Robert T. Snodgrass.

Harvey E. Jones vs. Elizabeth Jones, divorce, filed in 1934, is now ready for trial. The plaintiff, Mr. Jones, is represented by George L. H. Brown, and the defendant, Mrs. Jones, is represented by Robert T. Snodgrass.

Harvey E. Jones vs. Elizabeth Jones, divorce, filed in 1934, is now ready for trial. The plaintiff, Mr. Jones, is represented by George L. H. Brown, and the defendant, Mrs. Jones, is represented by Robert T. Snodgrass.

Licenses Issued

Marion has been issued a license to drive a motor vehicle. The license was issued by the State of Maryland.

Barbara L. Morgan (neé Morgan) and Harry E. Jones (neé Jones) have been issued licenses to drive a motor vehicle. The licenses were issued by the State of Maryland.

Robert T. Snodgrass has been issued a license to drive a motor vehicle. The license was issued by the State of Maryland.

The aggregate area of U.S. national forests is about one and one-third times the area of Texas. Farming is the main activity of Mexico and almost three-fourths of Mexican population.

SATURDAY (NIGHT)

SATURDAY (NIGHT)
WTAN 1100 KC	WJW 700 KC	WJW 720 KC	WHKX 640 KC
5:00 Top America	Top America	Cosmo's Jitter	5:00 Top 100
5:15	World's Greatest	Mother, Dad	Ce Party Hour
5:30 Only Hard Top	Carl's Mystery
5:45 "My Name"
6:00 "My Name"	Sweet Music	Loveletter	John Moore
6:15 "My Name"	News Report	Top 100	6:00 AM 27 A
6:30 AM to Victory	Duffy's	6:00 AM	Party 100
6:45 AM to Victory		6:00 AM	Party 100
7:00 American Story	Brian Burnett	Boy Burns	Am. Eagle Club
7:15
7:30 "My Name"	Elmer Queen	Frankie Yanks	Solo of Clubs
7:45			Kease Band
8:00 Andre's Inter Rose	Able's Inter	8:00 Bloom	8:00 AM
8:15	8:00	8:00	8:00 AM
8:30 Top of Concess	8:00	8:00	8:00 AM
8:45
9:00 Barn Dance	Barn Dance	9:00 Parade	Teatime of the Air
9:15
9:30 Can You Top This	Can You Top	9:30 Parade
9:45
10:00 Palm Beach Party	Music Dollar	10:00 Parade	Gunsling
10:15	Band	10:00 Parade	True Love
10:30 Grand Ole Opry	Grand Ole	10:00 Parade	True Love
10:45	Opportunity	10:00 Parade	True Love
11:00 Walter's News	Arthur Bailey	11:00 Parade	11:00
11:15 Joseph P. News	Gregor Zimer	11:00 Parade	11:00
11:30 Palm Beach	6:00 to Victory	11:00 Parade	11:00

—MURRAY

[illegible]

Grange Field and Blue Cross of Chicago as the Jay Garnes and Pay Garnes families. The two families are the Grange Field family and the Blue Cross family. The Jay Garnes family is the Grange Field family and the Pay Garnes family is the Blue Cross family.

Added to Sunday's waste was the family of CBS' "The Phil Silvers Show" and the "The Phil Silvers Show" family. The Phil Silvers family is the Grange Field family and the "The Phil Silvers Show" family is the Blue Cross family.

Before the war, between 1930 and 1939, 600,000 British people worked in the catering industry.

Going to Camp?

Make and receive the information

TYPE KIT

Here's everything you need to keep your clothes from getting too hot. It's a new type of fabric that keeps you cool and comfortable. It's a new type of fabric that keeps you cool and comfortable.

 In MARION
 the Member of the Order of the Golden Rule
 is
The SCHAFFNER
DENZER Co.
funeral directors
 7 WARD DENZER, GEORGE

 A WORLD AHEAD ASSOCIATION

Let Us Care For Your Car!
— HOURS —
Open 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. All-Day Sunday

WE SIMONIZE!

Car Wash
and Polish Like New!

Ask About
Our General
Repair
Service

MILLER'S Texaco Service
Corner Greenwood and Center Streets

UHLER'S
announce new summer
Store Hours---

Open from 9:30 to 5:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday

Open Wednesdays From
9:30 Until 12 Noon

Open Friday From
12 Noon Until 9 P. M.

Open Saturday from 9:30 Until 6

We Will Be Closed Wednesday Afternoons
During June, July and August

The following seventeen 17 year old boys from this area enlisted in the Navy through the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at 106 South Main street, in the last half of May:

Kenneth William Ankeny, Sycamore; Richard Joseph Barnett, 272 Lincoln avenue; John Henry Beraw, 231 Crew avenue, Gallatin; Eldridge Buckley, Morrill; Robert Luttell Clarke, 441 North Greenwood street; Eric Bamford Creech, near Gallatin; John Walter Cusick, near Niton; Kenneth Andrew Garvelick near Edison; Harold Lloyd Holloway, 263 North Franklin street, Richwood; Don Allen Hoon, Belle Center; Roland David Lenhart, 602 West Church street, Gallatin; William Rention McCall, near Gallatin; Lawrence Raymond McIntire, 5 Milo street, Delaware; Gerald Orville Osburn near Carlington; David Albert Price, Belle Center; Charles Edward Saylor near Marlon; Dale Richard Will, 271 Fairview street.

Before the war, England produced less than 40 per cent of her essential food requirements.

When Better Insurance Is Sold
We Will Sell It.

F. HOWARD
LAWSON & CO.
INSURANCE FOR EVERY NEED
182 S. Main St. Dial 5200

SUNDAY
WTAM 1100 KC	WLW 760 KC	WJH 760 KC	WHKC 640 KC
1000 Radio Hilarities 1020 World Music	Onio Song Vocalist	Dorcas Moore Songs	Billie Glass Rac. O. S. M.
1100 World Moments	Wichard Hampold Thers	Wm. J. Zollner	Ray Kelly Fragrant Evening
1200 World Front 1230 Broadway Orch	World Front Broadway Or	News In Our Opinion	Review Stand World Kink
1300 Melodic Madness 1330 Roundtable	Cady Taser Boy's Town	Walter W. A. R. Winters A. D. M.	Stanley Dixon Lutheran Hour
1400 There We Love 1430 Westinghouse	There We Love C. T. Thomas	M. C. A. World Today	Music Hour Lutheran Hour
1500 Linton Jones 1530 Army Hour	Linton Jones Arm. Hour	New York Symphony	Fort Dix Myst. Thriller
1600 Army Hour 1630 Piker's Sons, Ohio	Lutheran Hour Symphony	Kornatetzky	Wide Horizon To Be Announced
1700 General Motors 1715 Symphony 1730 1745	" " " "	W. L. Sinter	Green Valley Building Drum
1800 Catholic Hour 1815 1830 Great Gildersleeve 1845	Evening at Crosby Sq. Gildersleeve	Officer Theater Amer. In Air	Recovery of A. A. F. Lutheran Hour Memory Lane
1900 Jack Benny 1915 1930 Bandwagon 1945	Jack Benny Walter Truth or Consequence	To Be Announced Walter We, the People	Old Fashioned Fidelity, H.
2000 Am. Baker's Sale 2015 Armed Forces 2030 2045	Special 1-hour Radio Show I. Alan's Fam.	Star and the Story Crime Doctor	Mediation Board
2100 Merry Go Round 2115 2130 Familiar Music 2145	Merry Go- Round Familiar Music	Radio Readers Dixie Fred Allen	Adventures of L. Withers What's Name of Frank
2200 Hour of Charm 2215 2230 Bob Crosby 2245	Charm Hour Bob Crosby	Take it or Leave it Hermila's Cave	Sunday Eve Music
2300 Did You Know 2315 News 2330 Pacific Story 2345	W. Winchall Jimmy Fidler Money Fidler Down to Victory Nemo River	Jimmy Fidler Kurenska Green Jan Carter Orchestra	Skin Off
MONDAY (Night)
WTAM 1100 KC	WLW 760 KC	WJH 760 KC	WHKC 640 KC
5300 Girl Marries 5315 Love and Learn 5330 Just Plain Bill 5345 Dr. J. Q. Farrell	Gl. Marries Love & Learn Just Plain Bill Dr. J. Q. Farrell	MaMa's Barbershop Between Lines Amer. Women	Safety League Fashion, New Tom Mix Superman
5400 Evening Prelude 5415 News 5430 Victory 5445 Lowell Thomas	Buccaners News Star Parade Lowell Thomas	Vandewater Korn Kobblers Melodies World Today	Al Farlin Swagerty Spitz Lone Ranger
5500 Fred Warnez 5515 World News 5530 Longines 5545 Symphonette	Fred Warnez Beveridge Lone Roar Kaltenborn	I Love Mystery Ed Sullivan Blonde	Fulton Lewis Jack GL Kill Acad. Brown
5600 Cayalcade 5615 5630 Richard Crooks 5645	Cayalcade Rich. Crooks	Vox Pop Gay 90's	Acad. Brown The Smoother Sentimental Must
5700 Den Voorhees 5715 5730 Information 5745 Pleasure	Telephone Hr. Information Pleasure	Lux Radio Theater	World Front Nick Carter Paul & Jerry
5800 Contended Hour 5815 5830 Dr. L. Q. 5845	Contended Hr. Dr. L. Q.	Screen Guild Thin Man	Gladstone Evening Mood De Pardos O Star Off
5900 News 5915 Hornekins 5930 S. Watkins Orch 5945	Arthur Reilly Gerald Zeimer WLW Spotlight Farber Orch	Vandewater Murray Orch Peaceful Valley

FOR RESULTS USE THE STAR WANT ADS

Hildegarde To Take Over Red Skelton's Program

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 2—A girl is taking over Red Skelton's program after he goes into the Army. It will be Hildegard, and her first show is June 13.

Red signs off with next Tuesday night's NBC broadcast; the day before his postponed induction into the service. He'll have an appropriate goodbye.

Comedy is the basic theme for an hour's special broadcast on NBC at 8 Sunday night in salute to the armed forces, the second this year. Under Bob Hope as M. C. there will be Edgar Bergen and Charlie, Burns and Allen.

TONIGHT

WMRN - 8:30 P. M.

Favorite Music of Yesterday & Today

BOSTON

POPS

90 Boston Symphony Musicians

Tonight - Featuring the Music of John Philip Sousa, Rossini, Gershwin

BROUGHT TO YOU BY

ALLIS-CHALMERS

and your local Allis-Chalmers Dealer

Producing 1600 Farm and Industrial Products that Further American Good Living

There's a Home in YOUR Future!

START PLANS FOR IT NOW

FIRST—Buy War Bonds to pay for the initial payment. Saving the war bond way not only increases the amount you save, but hastens the day when you can start building.

THEN—Pay for the rest of the house with the aid of a Direct Reduction Mortgage loan—a safe, inexpensive way to secure your home.

Let us help you make your plans

MARION FEDERAL
SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

Member Federal Home Loan Bank System
134 E. Center St.

Now Authorized Dealer for DeSoto and Plymouth
134 N. Prospect St.—Formerly "Stoltz Garage"

OPEN for BUSINESS MONDAY, JUNE 5th!

- Plymouth Parts and Repairs
- De Soto Parts and Repairs

"One of Ohio's Oldest and Most Reliable Garages"

—BIG USED CAR LOT—
WE BUY and SELL
USED CARS

MR. ROY HENSEL

WESTERN HORSE SHOW HERE JUNE 18
 A horse competitive event set at Fairgrounds.

A horse show will be held at the Marion county fairgrounds on Sunday, June 18. The show will feature a variety of horse classes, including Western, Hackney, and Hackney Saddle. The show is expected to draw a large crowd of spectators.

CLASS HEARS PROGRAM
 The state council, Mrs. Essie Thompson, was present when the Golden Link Council, Daughters of America, held its mother and daughter banquet at United Brethren church. The affair was planned by Mrs. Raymond Lyons, Mrs. E. H. Sulser, Mrs. Willard Fogle and Mrs. Jesse Curren. Those taking part in the program marking the 22nd anniversary of the council were Mrs. J. L. Wintermute, Mrs. Thompson, Vera Jean Kellogg, Edward Byrns, Robert Muth, Shirley Kirland, Mrs. Calvin Teetrick, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Roy Crawford, Mrs. Della Hill, Mrs. Clara Dick and Mrs. Ella Dill.

The O. U. R. Girls held a mother-daughter party in the parlors of First Lutheran church Thursday. Harriet Volk was the toastmistress, and the program was presented by Mrs. William MacAdam, Mrs. Lowell Ness, Mrs. Murrell Longstrech and Mrs. Howard Holtshouse.

OPEN TONIGHT TILL 10
 Full Line of Fresh Beef, Pork, Veal
 Also Complete Line of Cooked Lunch Meals
 Big Display of Fresh Fruits, Vegetables
 Shop at Wise's and Save

WISE'S SUPER MARKET
 879 E. Center St.
 FREE PARKING

KLINE'S DEPARTMENT STORE

MONDAY Is "Basement Day"

New Summer

BUTTONS card 7c

J. & P. Coates Thread 4c

Black or White

White Damask Tablecloth $1.47

66x84 and 64x72
 Some Slight Irregulars

39" Printed Rayon Crepe 79c

Guaranteed Fast Color Yard

Double Thickness

White Navy Towels 69c

Size 24x45

87" Unbleached Sheeting 49c

Good Quality Yard

60" Government Duck $1.29

Ideal for Tents, Canopies, Lawn Chairs Yard

37" Blue Denim 39c

Ideal for Play Clothes, Work Clothes Aprons Yard

Galion Mothers' Study Group Closes Season

GALION, June 3—The Mothers' Study club closed its season Friday with a picnic at Halse park for the children of the members. The committee included Mrs. Lloyd Ridenour, Mrs. Miller Carter, Mrs. L. R. Breese and Mrs. Richard Lower.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Amick a farewell party was held Friday evening for Stanley Tripp, who leaves Monday to enter the armed services. Members of the Church of the Nazarene were guests.

Otterbein Guild Girls of the United Brethren church of Galion met Thursday with Lee-Edna McGinnis near Ocoola. Mrs. C. V. Rupp gave a talk. Luella Guinther was elected as thank offering secretary. Taking part in the program were Mrs. Rangelier, Opal Holzwarth, Luella Guinther, Miss McClain and Miss Randall. Refreshments were served by Mrs. McClain the hostess and Gene Jacobs. A solo was sung by Walter McClain.

The state council, Mrs. Essie Thompson, was present when the Golden Link Council, Daughters of America, held its mother and daughter banquet at United Brethren church. The affair was planned by Mrs. Raymond Lyons, Mrs. E. H. Sulser, Mrs. Willard Fogle and Mrs. Jesse Curren. Those taking part in the program marking the 22nd anniversary of the council were Mrs. J. L. Wintermute, Mrs. Thompson, Vera Jean Kellogg, Edward Byrns, Robert Muth, Shirley Kirland, Mrs. Calvin Teetrick, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Roy Crawford, Mrs. Della Hill, Mrs. Clara Dick and Mrs. Ella Dill.

Crestline Couple To Mark Fiftieth Anniversary
 Special to The Star
 CRESTLINE, June 3—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams, June 6, will be celebrated Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Granger with a dinner. From 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. open house will be held at the Adams home.

School Salaries At Bucyrus Increased
 Special to The Star
 BUCYRUS, June 3—Bucyrus school teachers will receive pay increases of from $50 to $150 next year by provisions of a salary schedule adopted by the board of education. Salaries will be based on experience and training. The board voted to employ Joseph Riccardi of Sandusky, O., graduate of Ohio university, as physical education teacher and coach. Riccardi completed a successful season as coach at Uhrichsville last year. The board took no action to fill the vacancy of principal of the high school to replace Edwin Gearhart, who has entered military duty with the Navy.

REPAIR

Dream House of Tomorrow To Be Ready When the War Ends

The dream house of tomorrow. This kind of a dream house is a delusion for the simple reason that it is ready today. Judged from any point of view, kind of a house is so like the best house of today—the kind probable dream house of 1930, of a house that is waiting only minus the gadgets, that the difference for the armistice—is a veritable once in a lifetime. The dream house of tomorrow is now ready and only waiting for the "peace time" order. This is because the war has shown that the best house of today is a veritable once in a lifetime. The dream house of tomorrow is now ready and only waiting for the "peace time" order. This is because the war has shown that the best house of today is a veritable once in a lifetime.

The miracle house of 1930 described by many popular writers is a romantic delusion. While water heating plants and it has equipped with self-operating I-B-R Research Home at the University of Illinois. These tests have shown that the best hot water controlled heating make enter-to heating equipment already existing in the home. These tests have shown that the best hot water controlled heating make enter-to heating equipment already existing in the home. These tests have shown that the best hot water controlled heating make enter-to heating equipment already existing in the home.

Get an EAGLE CERTIFIED JOB!

An Eagle Certified Insulation Job will slash your fuel bills as much as 40%... virtually eliminates drafts... brings year 'round comfort. Mail coupon today

Anderson Eagle Insulation Co.
 Phone 2494. Home Address—230 Summit St.

WAR WORKERS
 who sleep daytime in summer

SLEEP COOL

JOHNS-MANVILLE ROCK WOOL HOME INSULATION Keeps Rooms up to 15° Cooler in Hottest Weather

Make your sleeping rooms 15° cooler in summer by insulating your attic with the new JOHNS-MANVILLE Super-Felt Rock Wool BATTs.

They last indefinitely, resist condensation of moisture and are fire resistant.

Home owners can easily install them at a cost for material of as low as —

4½c Per Square Foot

Rock Wool Insulation will not cost you one cent over a period of years because of up to 30% winter fuel saving.

PHONE, WRITE OR CALL FOR FREE ESTIMATE

THE AVENUE LUMBER & SUPPLY COMPANY

611 Bellefontaine Phone 2329.

READY MIXED CEMENT
 for all PURPOSES

COAL
 for every purpose

Buy War Bonds and Stamps To Help Our Boys

THE MILLARD HUNT CO.

180 N. Prospect St. Office and Yard Closed Sat. P. M. Phone 2384.

OUR INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT
 Also GIVES PROMPT SERVICE

- National — Drills, Reamers, Cutters
- Winter Bros. — Taps and Dies
- Disston — Saws and Files
- Browning — Belts and Pulleys
- Midwest — Abrasives
- Greene Tweed — Palmetto Packings
- Black & Decker — Electric Tools
- Kennedy — Machinist Kits and Boxes
- Ridgid — Pipe Tools
- Oster — Threading Machines
- Oxweld — Welding Supplies
- Deming — Industrial Pumps

Probst Supply Co.
 — DISTRIBUTOR —
 PLUMBING—HEATING—INDUSTRIAL SUPPLIES
 204 E. Center St. Phone 2698.

Insulating Materials
 in roll or bat form

Use in walls, attic for coolness in summer and saving heat in winter.

Barber Genasco Roofing

The Marion Lumber Co.
 204 Oak St. Established 1879 Phone 2157.

Keep Your Home in Good Condition for HOME DEFENSE vast majority of people have in their bathrooms, kitchens, or laundries.

This is not to imply that there is anything static about plumbing and heating equipment or that designs have been frozen.

On the contrary, the plumbing and heating industries will continue after the war as in the past to develop new equipment and to use new materials to bring new high standards of comfortable and convenient living to American homes.

Building Quiz

Q: Our sun porch, facing a lake, has a sleeping porch above. Every time that we have a hard driving rain from the lake, the windows leak and all furniture and rugs must be removed—generally in the middle of the night!—had a second set of windows put in with the same result, and made of green wood and have believe the frames must have been shrunk. How can I best prevent this leakage?

A: Your carpenter can fill the cracks and crevices around the window frames with a putty-like substance called caulking compound. Carpenters and painters have the equipment for doing this work. Weatherstripping around the edges of the storm sash might also help.

Q: We have a rare wrought-iron door knocker with very fine engraving in it, but it is covered with rust. I've removed most of the rust with emery cloth, but I can't remove all of it without harming the engraving. How can I remove the rust and what can I paint it with, without harming the engraving, to prevent the rust from forming again.

A: To soften the rust try soaking the knocker in kerosene, or else get a commercial rust removing preparation from your hardware store. With this and a stiff brush you should be able to get the metal clean and bright. Then wipe with turpentine or benzine and finish with a coat of clear spar varnish or clear lacquer. This should prevent further rusting. If you do not succeed, take the knocker to a worker in wrought iron, who could do the whole job for you. Be careful of fire when using benzine and turpentine.

34 Realty Transactions Recorded In Marion County During 7-Day Period

Thirty-four real estate transfers were recorded in the office of Grace Zachman, county recorder, last week. The number recorded the week before was 58.

Twenty-seven mortgages were recorded, an increase of four over the week before. Total value of mortgages the week before was $68,800. Total value last week was $60,249. Twenty-one were on city property and accounted for $48,043 of the total.

Fourteen loans by loan companies were for $33,330, six by banks were for $12,843, six by individuals were for $15,760, one by a private company was for $350.

Real estate transfers for the week follow:

Ed F. Boyd to Rachel W. Boyd, certificate of transfer of 1/2 acre in Pleasant township.

Marion H. Brackley to Robert E. Hines and others, Marion lot 41.

Alvin B. Brackley to a trustee, transfer to Daniel W. Brackley Jr. Marion lot 42.

Walter W. Butler and others to Lewis E. Stanley and others, Marion lot 43.

Paul H. Cranton and others to Daniel A. Roberts and others, Marion lot 44.

Helen Collins to Donald A. White, Prospect lot 45.

Thomas F. Curry Hannah Curry, certificate of transfer for 30 acres in Montgomery township.

Home Federal Savings and Loan association to Mildred Dains, Marion lot 46.

Home Owners Loan Corp. to James P. McPork and others, Marion lot 47.

Walter W. Butler and Thompson Co. to Clara B. Miller and others, Marion lot 48.

Home Federal Savings and Loan association to William M. Tharp, Marion lot 49.

Marion H. Brackley to Daniel W. Brackley Jr., Marion lot 50.

Edith D. Decker to Charles M. Roberts and others, part of Marion lot 51.

Philip D. Greene to Charles M. Roberts and others, part of Marion lot 52.

Zeina F. H. Justice to Paul Justice and others, certificate of transfer of 1/2 acre in Marion township.

Paul Justice to Paul W. Miller, part of an acre in Marion township.

Mildred J. Jump to Nicholas Myers and others, part of two Marion lots, 53.

Anna C. Lincoln to Lynn R. Williams and others, part of four acres in Marion township.

Clara M. Mulvane to Lena D.

either an indication of too much shade or poor drainage. If the ground is shaded by trees, the only thing you can do is to thin out the branches or remove the trees entirely. If the ground is not shaded you can usually get rid of the moss by the installation of agricultural drain tile to give adequate drainage. Trees may be killed by girdling them in the early spring. This is done by removing a strip of bark clear around the tree one inch or more in width. It is well to cut slightly into the wood itself to prevent healing over. There is no other satisfactory way of killing trees without tendering the ground unusable for a year or more except by digging them out.

BANK RECORDS

as well as books and magazines have been destroyed by TERMITES.

Your building may be infested.

Ask for an External Inspection. If termites are present, they will be shown to you.

L. R. Amrine & Sons
 LICENSED OPERATORS
 308 N. Main Marion, O.
 Phone 6179

THE GARDEN CLINIC
 By VICTOR H. RIES
 O. S. U. Extension Floriculturist.

Q: Can you tell me what causes moss on my front lawn and what to do to get rid of it as it is ruining my lawn? How can I kill volunteer trees that come up? I cut them but they persist and come up again. Is there some way to kill the root which will not injure the ground for gardening?

A: The moss in your lawn is

CEMENT BLOCKS

Use CEMENT BLOCKS In Your 1944 Construction.

They Are Not a Critical Material and Are Not Rationed

BALDAUF & SCHLIENTZ, Inc.
 Permanent Builders' Supplies and Coal THIRTIETH YEAR.

GRAVEL

Special Mix for Driveways, Parking Lots, Fills, etc.—Price Reasonable

Boulton Gravel & Const. Co.
 Phone Green Camp 143-2133. Phone Marion 15-801.

Box Springs

$21.75 and $24.75

Davenport Cushions
 remade with $4.00 new springs

Government Standard

MATTRESSES

We Remake Mattresses of All Kinds

Smith Mattress Co.
 Phone 2677. 192 Blaine Ave.
 Builders of Fine Mattresses for Over 100 Years.

READY MIXED CONCRETE

Our new improved method of mixing concrete saves you money, time and labor. Call us today for free estimates.

The Ohio Blue Limestone Co.
 Phone 2452. 1215 N. Main St. Marion, Ohio

READY MIXED CONCRETE

Our new improved method of mixing concrete saves you money, time and labor. Call us today for free estimates.

The Ohio Blue Limestone Co.
 Phone 2452. 1215 N. Main St. Marion, Ohio

THE MARION STAR

Established in 1877

Published every afternoon except Sunday by The Marion Star, Inc., 100 North Main St., Marion, Ohio. Entered at the post office at Marion, Ohio, as second class matter, March 1, 1915.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Associated Press is a corporation organized for the purpose of gathering and distributing news and information by wire, radio, and other means. It is not a newspaper and does not publish any news or information of its own.

SPECIAL DELIVERY. The John W. Campbell, Jr., of Marion, Ohio, has been named as the winner of the Pulitzer Prize for his story, "The Story of the Boy Who Wasn't There."

PRIVATE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE. The Marion Star has a private telephone exchange for its subscribers.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Marion Star is a member of the Associated Press, which is a corporation organized for the purpose of gathering and distributing news and information by wire, radio, and other means.

By carrying out the policy of the Associated Press, the Marion Star is able to provide its subscribers with the most accurate and up-to-date news and information available.

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1944

Period of Decisive Action

SUMNER STIMSON'S report on the progress of the United States armed forces in Europe is a report of decisive action. It is a report of a campaign that has been going on for the last six months, a campaign that has been the most decisive in the history of the world.

When Secretary Stimson says the period of decisive action is at hand, he does not mean to restrict the possibilities of the striking force that has been developed; the Germans and Japanese, of course, know its size and strength. The United States and its allies now have arrived at that condition of preparedness in the war which would be necessary for deception; they have survived the Axis strategy of taking advantage of their initial weakness and now are adequately prepared to take advantage of Axis weakness. At long last—and thanks to American skill in delivering the goods to every part of the world—they are ready to overwhelm the enemy on battlefields of their own choosing and timing. It may be assumed that Secretary Stimson did not make his announcement lightly. The decisive action he says is imminent will not be much longer in the making.

Peace Emergency Administration

ALL the exploratory conversation and tentative steps toward conversion of war industry to peacetime production lead to the same conclusion: It is primarily a problem in efficient administration.

The peace emergency, in terms of impact on industry and business, will be critical. In one way, at least, it will be more critical than the war emergency. The handling of the latter was eased at many points by availability of almost unlimited funds; no cost was too great. Reconversion to peacetime production, on the other hand, must be on an economic basis, with costs controlled and rationalized.

The obstacle of government confusion—both by design and accident—is being dealt with more kindly in early conversations than is justified. It is an indisputable fact that reconversion would be an infinitely brighter prospect than it is now if industry could be assured in advance of the complete cooperation and sympathetic understanding of the federal government. The process could become a hopeless muddle if, instead of cooperation and understanding, reconversion fell under the blight of the same New Deal attitude which, before the war, sought to keep all private enterprise on the defensive.

Democratic Bedfellows

THE strange bedfellows axiom in politics never was applied to an odder assortment than is found in Thomas Jefferson's old bedstead in 1944.

This year's "coalition" is the payoff. It looks like the end of the line for the strange camaraderie of the last decade which has put Boss Hague and Henry Wallace cheek by jowl under the party cover; which has lined up Jeffersonians and New Deal pinkies in nice even rows to be counted on election day; which has kept midwestern agriculturalists and urban radicals hand in hand; and which has all rebounded to the political glory and power of the Roosevelt whirlwind in the nation's capital.

In 1944, American Communists will go brazenly down the line for the Democratic nominee; they already have nominated Mr. Roosevelt. He is the nominee of the CIO. He is the nominee of the American Labor party, which holds a theoretical balance of power in New York City and, therefore, in New York state. He is the nominee of the Labor party's dissident wing, calling itself the Liberal party. He is, also, apparently destined to be the nominee of the Democratic party, whose decision on that point is now an anti-climax, because without the support of its bedfellows the Democratic party knows it doesn't have a chance.

This thing hasn't happened suddenly. What has happened suddenly is the public's realization that a decade of expediency has altered the Democratic party beyond recognition. The party has been made over to suit the purposes of its bedfellows; they have captured it and established their position so securely they cannot be ousted. If anyone is going to leave, it will have to be dissatisfied Democrats; the bedfellows have nowhere else to go.

These strangers—and no one denies them the right to exert their political influence—have been moving into the Democratic party steadily since 1932, last national election in which the party appeared under its traditional banner of Jeffersonian principles. They came and they remained by invitation of the party's management. They used the party's prestige and its votes to establish their ideas. They were welcomed for the votes they controlled, and they drove hard bargains. If Democrats don't like the consequences, the Democrats can lump the consequences. Nothing short of a miracle can give the party back to its original members now—and there are no miracles in sight.

Today and Tomorrow

Failures of Conferences After Last War Studied To Serve as Guides in New Ones.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

EVER since Mr. Sumner Welles, French ambassador, reported against a revival of the League of Nations, there has been a tendency to look at the League of Nations as a failure. It is a failure, but it is a failure that has been studied to serve as guides in new ones.

There is here, of course, a paradox. The League of Nations, which was supposed to be a failure, is now being studied to serve as guides in new ones. This is a paradox that has been studied to serve as guides in new ones.

Which First? The crucial question at Paris was whether to make a treaty for peace with Germany and then to organize a league, or whether to organize the league and then to make a treaty for peace with Germany.

If Wilson had agreed to a specific and separate German treaty first, he would have been back with the definite but limited proposal to have the United States help enforce German disarmament over a fixed period of years.

Such a German treaty would have held the victorious Allies together for the specific and intelligible task of making sure that Germany did not rearm and try again. The fact that the United States as well as Great Britain help enforce German disarmament over a fixed period of years.

Swing of the Pendulum

Southern Democrats on the Move Again.

POLITICAL historians are watching southern Democrats closely for signs that the pendulum swing in the south between conservatism and liberalism is going to have far-reaching effect on the party's composition.

Stirrings of disaffection in the south against northern control of the party represent a feeling against alleged radicalism. Yet half a century ago southern Democrats were the party's radicals.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

French, however, is not against a revival of the League of Nations. It is a failure, but it is a failure that has been studied to serve as guides in new ones.

But the League of Nations is not a failure. It is a failure that has been studied to serve as guides in new ones.

Which First? The crucial question at Paris was whether to make a treaty for peace with Germany and then to organize a league, or whether to organize the league and then to make a treaty for peace with Germany.

If Wilson had agreed to a specific and separate German treaty first, he would have been back with the definite but limited proposal to have the United States help enforce German disarmament over a fixed period of years.

Such a German treaty would have held the victorious Allies together for the specific and intelligible task of making sure that Germany did not rearm and try again. The fact that the United States as well as Great Britain help enforce German disarmament over a fixed period of years.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

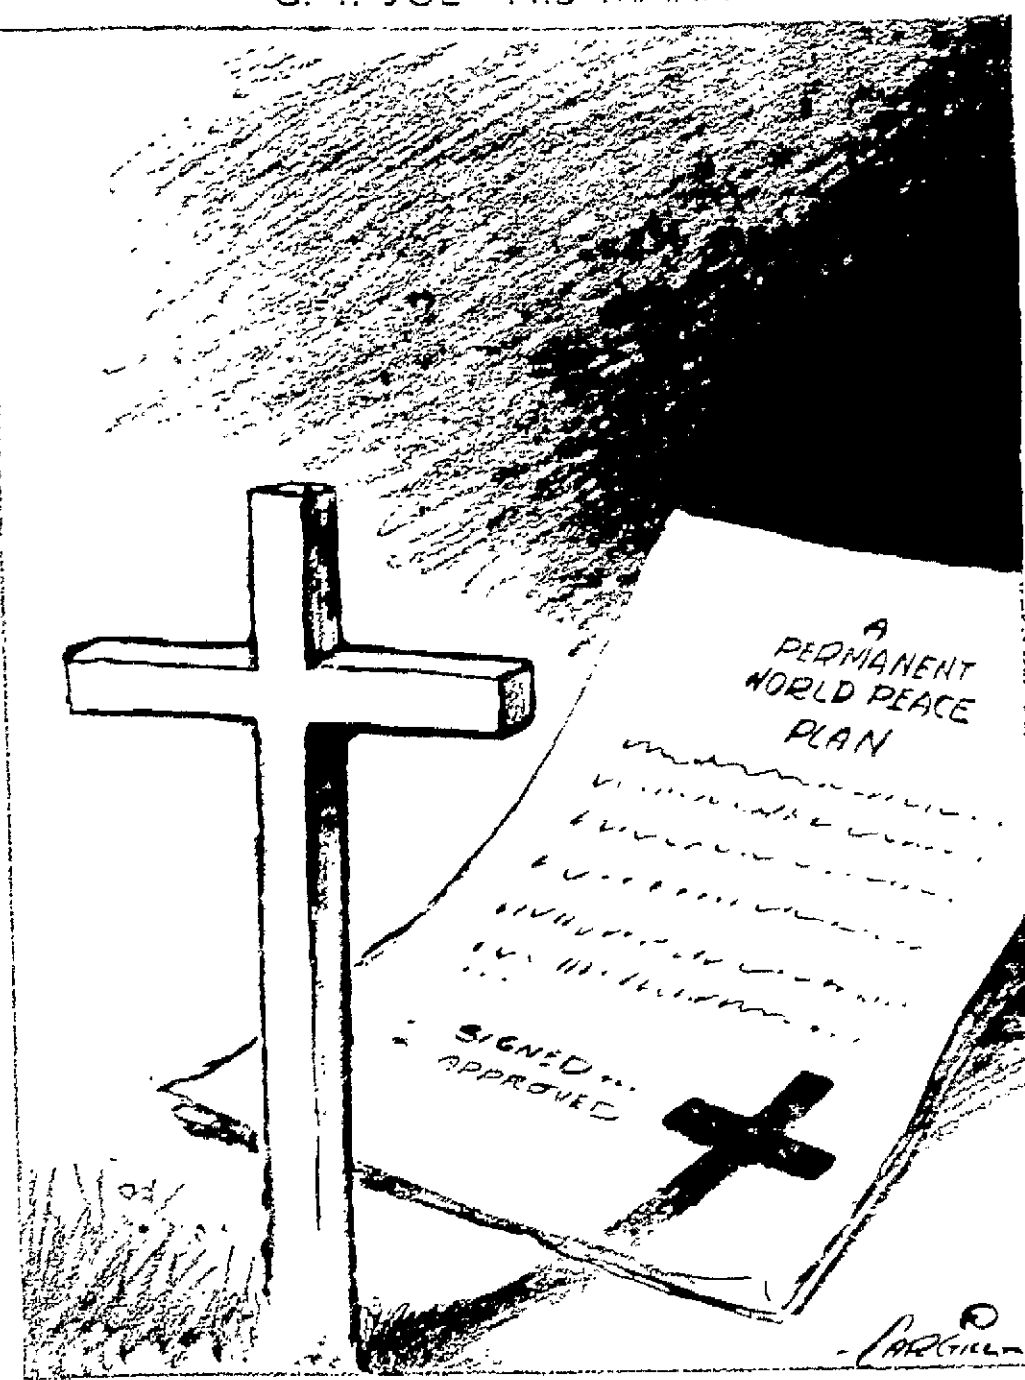

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

Northern Democrats began to leave the party, first for the Free Soil party, then for the new Republican party. The split between north and south in Democratic party was a bad-bed of Populism.

Under Thomas Jefferson, the Democratic party in its beginnings was the liberal party of its day. It remained so, under the influence of Andrew Jackson. But with nomination of James K. Polk in 1844 the party fell under control of southern landowners allied with banking and trading interests of the north and, by the influence of association and interests, strongly conservative.

"G. I. JOE—HIS MARK"

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, June 3, 1934. Fifteen St. Mary High school seniors received diplomas with Rev. Father Edward Summe, assistant pastor, giving the commencement sermon. The graduates were Eunice Dennis, Thomas Fumini, Timothy Fahey, Angelo Farrugio, Walter Maxwell, Margaret Minnighan, Robert Moran, James Murphy, Miriam Morro, Helen Ray, Theodore Rowe, Paul Ryan, Frances Scranon, Josephine Shea, Raymond Simmons, June Stanner, Clarence Tanner and Rosemary Worley.

Miss Jane Stanner, one of the St. Mary High school graduates, received a scholarship to Mount St. Joseph college at the baccalaureate mass in St. Mary Catholic church.

William S. Sherman, 78, died at his home north of Caledonia. Miss Gladys Brobst of Marion and L. W. Asman of Mt. Pleasant were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brobst of South Prospect street, by Rev. Franklin G. Markley of Epworth M. E. church.

A surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fisher, southeast of Marion celebrated the sixty-first birthday anniversary of the host.

Miss Virginia Fowler and Dwight Scranon, both of Marion, were married in First United Brethren church by Rev. Carl V. Roop.

The Caledonia Indians, after four straight victories, were defeated by the Kenton Reds in a baseball game at Kenton, 6-3. Carl Huffman, Caledonia pitcher, allowed six hits, while Canfield, Kenton hurler, allowed 10.

Summit Hugh Sherman, 80, of Rychno, died in Antonio hospital at Kenton.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, June 3, 1924. Governor Dunaway announced at Columbus, when officials of the Lord's Day Alliance demanded action to close Ohio theaters on Sundays, that it was not his duty to go into every corner of the state and shut up every picture house on Sunday; but added he would see to it that any particular law enforcement officer did his duty if a specific complaint were filed.

President Coolidge signed a tax bill that provided a flat 25 per cent reduction in income taxes.

The Grand theater was advertising "The White Sister," starring Lillian Gish, the Marion was offering Leatrice Joy and Rod La Roque in "Triumph" and the Regent was showing Fred Thompson in "The Silent Stranger." At the Oakland, Dorothy Dalton was featured in "A Royal Scam."

Judson J. Phelps, 67, Marion painter, died at his home on Olney avenue of injuries suffered in a recent fall from a scaffolding.

Officers headed by Harold Denzer as chancellor commander were elected by Canby Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Annette of Green Camp. Members of the Marion County Medical society entertained 50 guests at a dinner dance at Hotel Harding. Talks were given by Dr. A. Rhu, Dr. R. C. M. Lewis, Dr. H. L. Uhler, Dr. D. O. Weeks and Dr. H. J. Lower.

Mrs. W. F. Thompson was hostess to the Inter Se club at her home on Blaine avenue.

Teeth Bite on Beach

By The Associated Press. SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA—Freak collisions are the order on Sydney's crowded bathing beaches. One collision was bitten by the false teeth of the colliders and a piece of the broken plate was embedded in his scalp. Both went to the hospital.

Isolation Views in Mid-West

Issue is Non-Existent Now, Grass Rooters Declare.

By JACK STINNETT Associated Press Writer

OMAHA, Neb.—If you want to arouse the ire of the "grass roots" just refer to them once more as the "isolation belt."

"Don't project me into any further discussion of isolationism," said one high state official, "so far as we are concerned on this way, it's a dead issue."

"Nebraska's out to win the war and after that to win the peace and although there may be some discussion over the methods of doing, don't get the idea that we are going to let our sacrifices on the battlefields and at home go for nothing. Certainly there were many of us who hoped that we could keep out of European and Asiatic squabbles. We've found that we can't. It is no longer a topic worth discussing."

High Percentage

Gov. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa reports that his state has contributed 260,000 persons to the armed force out of a population of 2,500,000.

"That's a ratio of one to 9.6; while the ratio for the entire country is about one to 13.5," he said. "Does that sound as if our people are unwilling to sacrifice everything in an international struggle?"

"It is not my purpose to speak for any other state or city, but Chicago is sometimes referred to as a hotbed of isolationism or nationalism or whatever you choose to call it. Just compare the Navy recruiting drive records there with those of New York City or any other city which prides itself on a so-called 'international' viewpoint. In the last two big recruiting drives, Illinois was out in front, before many western states had started."

"Just some form of international cooperation will have to be undertaken to maintain the peace we are going to win is an accepted fact everywhere else in the middle west where I talked to the people and their representatives," the governor concluded.

They Have An Answer

These aren't isolated declarations on that subject. In certain districts between the two great mountain chains are printed out as still supporting the men who fought the pre-Pearl Harbor battles for non-intervention, the answer is simply this:

(1) There is no need to hang a road man for one mistake; (2) If every state were damned for its occasional error, but active minorities, there wouldn't be one unblemished star in the flag today.

One of the middle west's highly regarded politicians told me the record that Wendell L. Willkie lost in Wisconsin "and would have lost in any other state in this area" because he chose to make an issue of post-war world cooperation.

"You can't get any argument on that subject. It's something virtually everyone agrees on. What we want to know now is how a man stands on things going on here at home," he said. "Shouting that you want to win the war and win the peace won't get any more votes this year than shouting that you believe religion is a good thing. Who doesn't?"

Daily Bible Thought

But man's extremity is God's opportunity. When all else fails, God still is near. "And the water was spent in the bottle, and I cast the child under one of the shrubs." Genesis 21:14.

President Coolidge signed a tax bill that provided a flat 25 per cent reduction in income taxes.

The Grand theater was advertising "The White Sister," starring Lillian Gish, the Marion was offering Leatrice Joy and Rod La Roque in "Triumph" and the Regent was showing Fred Thompson in "The Silent Stranger." At the Oakland, Dorothy Dalton was featured in "A Royal Scam."

Judson J. Phelps, 67, Marion painter, died at his home on Olney avenue of injuries suffered in a recent fall from a scaffolding.

Officers headed by Harold Denzer as chancellor commander were elected by Canby Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Annette of Green Camp. Members of the Marion County Medical society entertained 50 guests at a dinner dance at Hotel Harding. Talks were given by Dr. A. Rhu, Dr. R. C. M. Lewis, Dr. H. L. Uhler, Dr. D. O. Weeks and Dr. H. J. Lower.

Mrs. W. F. Thompson was hostess to the Inter Se club at her home on Blaine avenue.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A Union of Thinkers

PROFESSOR ALBERT EINSTEIN says for a union of thinkers. Brains are organized as well as muscles, he says. In a meeting with applause and we look at the man who is beginning to look any like.

"The intellectual worker, due to his organization is not well protected against attack," says the professor. Thinkers of world arise.

Fifth War Loan Workers To Meet for Supplies Next Week

Monday and Tuesday Meetings Set To Prepare for Start of Campaign on June 12.

Hundred Marion county residents comprising the workmen for the Fifth War Loan drive, to begin June 12, will meet for their campaign plans in meetings next week.

The meetings are set for the biggest job of war bond selling ever in Marion county, and for the first time they are out to do means of straight selling, without any special inducements. The program calls for intensive house-to-house campaigning and worker-to-worker solicitation in the places of employment.

Allies Appear Ready To Strike Germans at Will

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Germany yet has been able to make the fall of D-day. The definite impression is that the allied forces are now in a position to strike at will.

The atmosphere of vastness and leash, pending the mysterious moment when the allied forces will strike at will.

The command have chosen the Russian-German front in the East.

Seek To Stall Storm

There is an effort to forestall the coming storm, the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

The allied forces are making progress in the West, and the Hitlerites are making furious attacks on the allied forces which have been making considerable progress in the West.

COST OF INVADING JAPANESE STRONGHOLDS IS HIGH.

These striking and dramatic photos just released were made during the assault on Wakke island, Japanese stronghold, by American Infantry forces.

In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

held, by American Infantry forces. In the top photo, a fallen Yank has his back wound dressed by a medical corpsman as he lies where he fell on the beach from murderous fire.

from the Jap pillboxes and in the lower photo, litter bearers carry a wounded fighter back to the big landing barge for removal to a hospital. Another wounded Yank lies on a stretcher.

AIR BASES

(Continued from Page 1)

Russian facilities for the Americans.

"It was a brief but happy celebration before servicing the aircraft with fuel and ammunition for another call on the axis en route to their home bases in England, Italy and America," said Deane.

"The operations carried out today mark the first large-scale physical cooperation of the air forces of Britain, Russia and America."

Deane explained that without British aid the American planes could not take off from their original bases.

One Russian observer hailed the event as "certainly the greatest accomplishment in Soviet cooperation."

(The Moscow radio broadcast an official announcement that "a considerable force of American bombers and fighters deals a blow against enemy objectives in Romania," adding that "a part" of these planes landed on bases in Soviet territory.)

The American airmen, unable to speak Russian, heartily greeted the Russians as "Ivan." The Soviet mechanics replied appropriately. They had worked for months with American ground crews to get the bases ready.

While the idea of the west-east shuttle bombing was said to have originated with Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the United States army air forces, the project was first decided on at U. S. Secretary of State Hull's Moscow conferences last fall, and got under way last February after it had been discussed at the Tehran conferences of President Roosevelt, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Allen was released under $15,000 bond and Dissauer under $5,000 bond.

In Washington, Rep. Michael Feighan, Cleveland Democrat, introduced congressional legislation to direct the federal bureau of investigation to participate in the rationing probe.

COUPLE FINED

Mrs. Helen Strobel, 27, of 455 East Farming street pleaded guilty in municipal court Friday to charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct and was fined $25 and costs. She was arrested Wednesday night on North Main street. Her husband, Fred Strobel, 39, of the Sawyer road, was also arrested Wednesday when city police found them creating a disturbance. Both were charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. Mr. Strobel pleaded guilty when he appeared in court the following day and was fined $25 and costs. At that time Mrs. Strobel entered a plea of not guilty, and the hearing was set for Friday. She told police she was seeking a divorce.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 3.—The nude body of an unidentified woman, wrapped in blankets and trussed with rope, was found early today in a dump of weeds a few feet off river road by a home-bound war worker, Coroner Arnold W. Devon asserted. The woman, approximately 30 years old, was "undoubtedly murdered" but cause of death has not been determined.

AUTOS DAMAGED

Car driven by Richard L. Fox of near Marion and LaMoine streets was damaged today when it collided last night with West Center street. Police reported the accident occurred as Fox attempted to make a left turn on Campbell street.

BRICKER

(Continued from Page 1)

for Gov. Bricker of Ohio on the first ballot at the Chicago meeting.

Democratic Governor Praises Bricker

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, June 3.—Praise for the "outstanding public service" of Gov. Bricker of Ohio came yesterday from Maryland's Democratic Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor as this state became the latest part of call of the Ohio chief executive in his campaign for the Republican nomination for president.

At a luncheon, O'Connor described Bricker as "a personable, experienced and, yes, qualified executive."

O'Connor, formerly a staunch supporter of President Roosevelt, has become critical in recent years of what he calls an assumption of powers which belong to the states.

Earlier, Bricker asserted at a press conference that "the American people will never consent to U. S. soldiers serving in an international police force," but said he favored a permanent international organization after the war.

BOMBING

(Continued from Page 1)

lacked the great Trappes railway yards on the outskirts of Paris. A side force of RAF Mosquitos attacked the chemical center of Leverkusen in Germany near Cologne, a frequent target of recent attacks, and other formations laid mines in enemy waters.

Seventeen British planes were missing from the night operations, and at least seven German fighters were shot down, the air ministry announced.

Allied bombers based in Italy attacked objectives at Giurgiu, a Romanian city on the Danube river, last night. Planes of the Mediterranean allied air force flew 2,700 sorties (individual plane flights) yesterday.

A communiqué said five of these Italian-based planes were missing.

Giurgiu is Romania's most important river port for the shipment of oil from the Ploesti fields. The town has storage tanks, quays and shipyards stretching for miles along the river and a pipe line connects the port with the oil fields.

Exclusive of the night attacks, a total of more than 5,000 allied planes participated in the massive two-day assaults yesterday, dropping nearly 7,000 tons of explosives.

Man Arrested, Injured

Woman in Hospital

Following a reported disturbance at the rear of the Hamburg King on South Main street last night, city police arrested Henry Black, 27, of 457 North Grand avenue on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. Irene Nolan of Marion, who was also involved was taken to City hospital for treatment of injuries in the disturbance. She was to be released today. Black was fined $100 and costs on the charges filed against him when he appeared in municipal court this morning.

CHILD OF DOCTOR KIDNAPED IN WEST

Daughter of Navy Officer Carried from Bed Room.

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Wash., June 3.—Police reported today that a five-year-old daughter of a Navy doctor, had been kidnapped, possibly raped and held in a blanket on a bed in a room 14 blocks from her home.

Week said the girl's parents, Dr. Conmick and Mrs. Jacob Marks, reported at 2:40 a. m. that Florence was missing from her bed. Marks room and a ladder had been found leading into a second story window of the Marks house.

Forty-five minutes later, Week said, Mrs. Ethel Smart, telephoned police that the girl, clinging to a blanket, had rung her doorbell.

The police captain quoted Dr. A. F. Ballard, internist at the hospital where the child was taken, as saying she was "the victim of a possible criminal attack."

The girl was released from the hospital and taken home by her father.

The Marks are parents of two other children. Police said apparently they were not awakened during the kidnapping.

Week said Marks reported he and his wife had been out of the house earlier in the evening, had returned about 1 a. m. to find Florence in bed, found her safe and then left the house again.

When they returned, Week said Marks told headquarters, they found Florence was gone and the blanket off her bed was missing.

Mrs. Smart said she was awakened about 3:30 a. m. by the doorbell. She went to a front window of the second story, saw Florence clinging to the blanket and again asked, "Who is it?"

"A little girl," Florence answered. "Who brought you here?" Mrs. Smart said she asked.

"A doctor brought me," the girl said. "Where is he?" "He's coming back," Florence replied.

MRS. REBECCA BARNETT DIES AT KOKOMO, IND.

Funeral Services To Be Held in Marion Monday.

Mrs. Rebecca Welles Barnett, 72, of Kokomo, Ind., formerly of Marion, died in Kokomo yesterday after an illness of six months.

Born Sept. 3, 1871 at Gallatin, she was a daughter of Theodore and Louisa Engelman Wolley, the father a native of California and the mother of Newark, Aug. 25, 1895 she was married in Marion to B. H. Barnett, who died at Kokomo some time ago. She was a resident of Kokomo 17 years.

Surviving are a son, Paul H. Barnett of Pittsburgh, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. H. N. Stenes and Mrs. J. A. Maloney, both of Kokomo, five grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. M. L. Martin of 215 Summit street.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on N. Vernon avenue by Rev. Eldred Johnston of Central Christian church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Sunday.

James A. Worden Of Galion Taken by Death

Special to The Star

GALION, June 3.—James A. Worden, 68, died at his home here at 7 a. m. today following an illness of five years.

He was a retired painter and contractor, Dec. 10, 1896 he married Laura Mountz who survives. He was a resident of Galion nearly all his life, with exception of 10 years when he lived in Toledo. Surviving besides the widow are two daughters, Mrs. R. T. Glenn and Mrs. Fern Streeter of Cleveland, three grandchildren, two brothers, High Worden of Akron, Bert Worden of Detroit, and two sisters, Mrs. Eva Shaffer of Marion and Mrs. Gertrude Helfrich of Vermilion.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2 p. m. at the Snyder funeral home here and burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the home at 957 Smith street between 6 and 9 tonight and tomorrow night.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Irene Elizabeth Davis of 356 Waterloo street and James Paul Meek of North Main street when they collided yesterday at 2:35 p. m. on West Center street near the Marion Steam Shovel Co. Police reported the mishap occurred when Miss Davis attempted to park.

CONDITION IMPROVED

The condition of Miss Mary Elizabeth Staub, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dennis of 219 North State street, was reported as improving at City hospital today. She underwent a major operation there about a week ago.

GUEST MINISTER

Guest minister at St. Paul's English Lutheran church tomorrow will be Dr. E. Clyde Kander, missionary superintendent of the Synod of Ohio. He will preach at 10:30 a. m.

New Parish House Dedicated by Oakland Heights Church

Building Remodeled and Equipped Largely by Labor of Pastor and Congregation Is Formally Opened.

A new parish house dedicated particularly to the youth of the church was opened Friday night by the Oakland Evangelical church.

Located on Henry street between Bellefontaine and Woodrow avenues, the house will be used by planned groups, classes and clubs of the church.

The building, formerly a garage, was remodeled by the labor of many members of the church. The leadership of the pastor, Rev. J. R. Dallas, measuring room and a ladder had been found leading into a second story window of the Marks house.

Forty-five minutes later, Week said, Mrs. Ethel Smart, telephoned police that the girl, clinging to a blanket, had rung her doorbell.

The police captain quoted Dr. A. F. Ballard, internist at the hospital where the child was taken, as saying she was "the victim of a possible criminal attack."

The girl was released from the hospital and taken home by her father.

The Marks are parents of two other children. Police said apparently they were not awakened during the kidnapping.

Week said Marks reported he and his wife had been out of the house earlier in the evening, had returned about 1 a. m. to find Florence in bed, found her safe and then left the house again.

When they returned, Week said Marks told headquarters, they found Florence was gone and the blanket off her bed was missing.

Mrs. Smart said she was awakened about 3:30 a. m. by the doorbell. She went to a front window of the second story, saw Florence clinging to the blanket and again asked, "Who is it?"

"A little girl," Florence answered. "Who brought you here?" Mrs. Smart said she asked.

"A doctor brought me," the girl said. "Where is he?" "He's coming back," Florence replied.

MRS. REBECCA BARNETT DIES AT KOKOMO, IND.

Funeral Services To Be Held in Marion Monday.

Mrs. Rebecca Welles Barnett, 72, of Kokomo, Ind., formerly of Marion, died in Kokomo yesterday after an illness of six months.

Born Sept. 3, 1871 at Gallatin, she was a daughter of Theodore and Louisa Engelman Wolley, the father a native of California and the mother of Newark, Aug. 25, 1895 she was married in Marion to B. H. Barnett, who died at Kokomo some time ago. She was a resident of Kokomo 17 years.

Surviving are a son, Paul H. Barnett of Pittsburgh, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. H. N. Stenes and Mrs. J. A. Maloney, both of Kokomo, five grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. M. L. Martin of 215 Summit street.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on N. Vernon avenue by Rev. Eldred Johnston of Central Christian church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Sunday.

James A. Worden Of Galion Taken by Death

Special to The Star

GALION, June 3.—James A. Worden, 68, died at his home here at 7 a. m. today following an illness of five years.

He was a retired painter and contractor, Dec. 10, 1896 he married Laura Mountz who survives. He was a resident of Galion nearly all his life, with exception of 10 years when he lived in Toledo. Surviving besides the widow are two daughters, Mrs. R. T. Glenn and Mrs. Fern Streeter of Cleveland, three grandchildren, two brothers, High Worden of Akron, Bert Worden of Detroit, and two sisters, Mrs. Eva Shaffer of Marion and Mrs. Gertrude Helfrich of Vermilion.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2 p. m. at the Snyder funeral home here and burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the home at 957 Smith street between 6 and 9 tonight and tomorrow night.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Irene Elizabeth Davis of 356 Waterloo street and James Paul Meek of North Main street when they collided yesterday at 2:35 p. m. on West Center street near the Marion Steam Shovel Co. Police reported the mishap occurred when Miss Davis attempted to park.

CONDITION IMPROVED

The condition of Miss Mary Elizabeth Staub, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dennis of 219 North State street, was reported as improving at City hospital today. She underwent a major operation there about a week ago.

GUEST MINISTER

Guest minister at St. Paul's English Lutheran church tomorrow will be Dr. E. Clyde Kander, missionary superintendent of the Synod of Ohio. He will preach at 10:30 a. m.

MORROW CO. PILOT BRINGS FORT BACK

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, June 3.—Lt. John G. Vaughan, 23, of Canton, co-pilot of a Flying Fortress, is credited with piloting his plane and crew safely back to England after the pilot had been injured by flak on a mission over northwestern Germany, according to a report from the public relations office of an AAF bomber station in England.

PAGE THIRTEEN

BUYING HELPS PROP MARKET

Low Priced Motors, Liquors and Rails Given Principal Attention.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 3.—Successful buying, principally in liquors, low-priced motors and selected rails, helped the stock market keep its balance fairly well today.

Investment demand, based on the earnings outlook and individual situations, continued to serve as the main bullish trend prop. Profit cashing on the recent bulge to five-year average highs, however, still was a brake on the upswing. Dealings were active at intervals and turnover for the two hours was around 400,000 shares.

Distillers received an expectation the government might soon permit the manufacture of a limited amount of beverages.

In front were Schenley, Distillers Corp., Park & Tilford, Heacock, Chrysler, New York Central, Owens-Illinois, American Can and American Telephone. Lugganab Ireland, U. S. Steel,

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—(By Associated Press.)

LIVESTOCK HERDS GROWING SMALLER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 5.—For some time meat supplies have been maintained by accelerated liquidation of sheep, lambing ewes, and by the premature marketing of feedlot cattle, the National Live Stock Producer, a trade publication, said today.

"There is still some uncertainty as to whether the western beef cattle industry will be sacrificed to obtain more adequate supplies this coming summer and fall," the publication added, "and a definite decision soon will have to be made as the fed cattle supply is rapidly coming to an end."

"The consumer is still confused in regard to meat supplies. Substantial storage stocks were accumulated earlier in the year and with the final stages of hog liquidation, ration points have been removed from pork, lamb, veal and to some extent beef. However, the real supply situation will become apparent during June. By that time much of the current storage stocks will be absorbed."

"Pork production will be down on its cyclically lower level and as a source of beef supplies, the feedlot will be practically out of the picture."

"Encouraged liquidation is not going to get adequate beef supplies for the balance of this year or for next. Such premature mar-gettings mean a corresponding curtailment later on."

The war food administration, in a report for the week ended May 26, said steers are being marketed at lighter weights than a year ago, reflecting a lesser degree of finish. Choices to prime grades have been comprising less than 10 per cent of the steer supply at Chicago, whereas a year ago over 17 per cent of the supply consisted of these two grades.

The general cattle market was extremely active all week. Steers reached a top of $17.35, highest since June, 1943. Hog prices were somewhat stronger than last Friday. Support weights remained at the top of $13.75. Slaughter lambs advanced early in the week, but lost part of the gains later. The week's top of $18.25 was paid for Colorado fed lambs.

TEAM PRACTICE HELD

The women's degree team of Marion Circle No. 184 Protected Home Circle held a practice last night in place of the regular business meeting. The team is captained by Mrs. Laura Kraus.

502 AMERICANS INTERNED

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 3.—The Berlin radio in a Stockholm dispatch

The Job Is
O. K.
When You Use A
LARKIN
WELDER

WELDER

It has no equal for

1. CONSTRUCTION
2. PERFORMANCE
3. CONTROL
4. ECONOMY

Let us tell you more personally. You will be interested in the Amperage Glide Control, the stepless regulation of current with wide range of amperage control.

WE ARE ALSO
DISTRIBUTORS FOR WELDING ROD

The Van Aka Supply Co.
210-72 W. Center St. Marion, O.
WHEELABRAND

NEWSPAPER

